

L'cha Dodi

(for S'fira)

10t

Version 2

Trad.
Arr. Stuart Izon

In many communities, there is a well-known practice of changing the tune for L'cha Dodi on the Shabbatot preceding Tisha b'Av. But there is an equally old (though less widespread) custom to change the melody on the Shabbatot during the Omer.

This simple but charming air was once common across many European communities. Whilst it has some resemblance to "Se Vuol Ballare" by Mozart, the actual basis seems to be an older German folk song, as this L'cha Dodi was well known long before Mozart composed his opera in 1785.
