

Az Yashir Moshe

137

Version 2

Trad.
Arr. Stuart Izon

The Song at the Sea is the first of three songs found in Chumash. Both Ashkenazic and Sephardic communities apply a festive tune or cadence to the text of the Shira. Typically the Ashkenazi version is a free-form recitative, where the Sephardi custom is more of a metrical tune. This "Shira melody" is perhaps most associated with the Spanish / Portuguese community. They also have almost identical melodies for Baruch Haba (in the Hallel and wedding services) and for Bendigamos, a Spanish addendum to Birkat Hamazon. Whilst the melody isn't sung during the Torah reading of the Shira itself, it is used at other times where the Shira is recited e.g. in P'sukei D'zimra. However, something was lost in translation when the English Ashkenazi communities appropriated this melody in the 17th century. In Minhag Anglia, this melody replaces the regular Torah notes during the actual Torah reading.

Andantino

Melody Alto

8

Az ya - shir mo - she uv - nei yis - ra -

Tenor Bass

4

M A

8

-el et ha - shi - ra ha - zot la - do - nai va -

T B

7

M A

8

-yo - m'-ru lei - mor A - shi - ra la - do - nai ki ga'-

T B

11

M A

8

-o ga' - a sus v' - ro - ch' - vo ra -

T
B

15

M A

8

-ma va - yam O - zi v' - zim - rat

T
B

18

M A

8

ya va - y'-hi li li - shu - a Zeh e - li v' - an -

T
B

22

M A

8

rit.

-vei - hu e - lo - hei a - vi va - a - ro - m' - men - hu

T
B