

Halleluyah

266g

Version 3

Kobi Oshrat
Arr. Stuart Izon

Kobi Oshrat's Halleluyah was originally performed by Milk and Honey at the 1979 Eurovision Song Contest in Jerusalem, where it won first place. Despite the use of the word Halleluyah (which itself contains the name of God), the original lyrics are more secular in tone. Here I have transplanted the melody onto the words of Psalm 150.

Moderato

The musical score is written for five parts: Chazzan, Melody Alto, Tenor Bass, and a Chorus consisting of Soprano (C), Alto (M), Tenor (T), and Bass (B). The time signature is 4/4, and the tempo is marked 'Moderato'. The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The score begins with a Chazzan part that has a rest for 8 measures before entering with the lyrics 'Ha - l' - lu - ya!'. The Melody Alto and Tenor Bass parts follow with similar lyrics and melodic lines. The Chorus parts enter with a drum accompaniment of 'dum' and sing 'ha - l' - lu - hu el b'kod - sho_'. The drum accompaniment continues throughout the Chorus part.
