

Hu Eloheinu

(Al Sfat Yam Kineret)

78k

Version 2

Chanina Krachevsky
Arr. Stuart Izon

In the early 20th century, Yaakov Fichman penned the enchanting poem "Agada" (a Legend) based on his great love for the land of Israel. The composer Chanina Krachevsky later wrote this lyrical melody to the words, propelling them to further heights.

*"On the banks of the Kineret, there is a beautiful palace.
A garden is planted there – not a single tree moves.
Who lives there? Only a boy, like a bird in the heart of a forest.
He studies Torah there from the mouth of Eliyahu the Prophet.
Not a wave makes a sound. All the flyings birds Stand by to listen and soak up God's Torah."*

Adagio espressivo

Chazzan

Melody Alto

Tenor Bass

Hu e - lo - hei - nu hu a - vi - nu

C.

M A

T B

hu mal - kei - nu hu mo - shi - ei - nu v' -

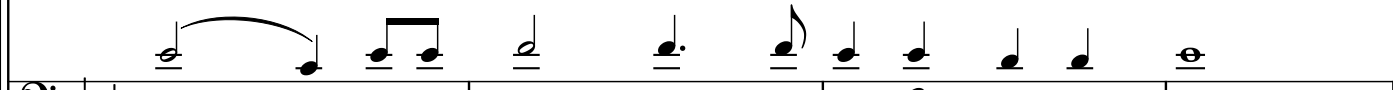

9

C.

- hu yash-mi - ei - nu b' - ra - cha - mav shei - nit

M A

- hu yash-mi - ei - nu b' - ra - cha - mav shei - nit

T
B

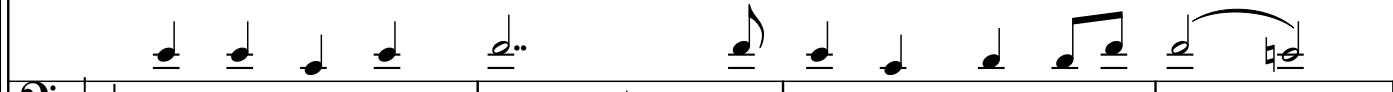

13

C.

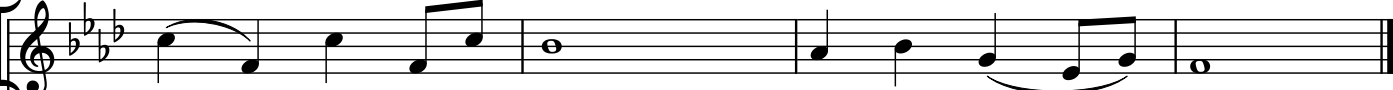

l' - ei - nei kol chai lih - yot la - chem lei - lo - him

M A

l' - ei - nei kol chai lih - yot la - chem lei - lo - him

T
B

17

C.

a - ni a - do - nai e - lo - hei - chem

M A

a - ni a - do - nai e - lo - hei - chem

T
B 