

Kad'sheinu

86a

Version 2

Abraham Binder
Arr. Stuart Izon

Kad'sheinu is the central blessing of the Shabbat Amidah, detailing the sanctification of the day. It replaces the 13 middle blessings of the weekday Amidah and highlights Shabbat as not only a time for physical rest but also an opportunity for spiritual growth and connection with God.

This theme has become an anonymous motif in the canon of Ashkenazi synagogue music, and is quoted by many ba'alei t'fila. However the composition is for the entire paragraph, and was written by Abraham Wolf Binder, the founding music director of the Stephen Wise Free Synagogue and editor of the Union Hymnal. Over time, small melodic inaccuracies have crept in, and most renditions revert to nusach instead of using Binder's original ending for the b'racha itself.

The musical score is written for three voices (C, M, A) and two parts (T, B). The key signature is B-flat major (two flats). The time signature is 8/8. The score begins with a measure rest for 8 measures. The tempo is marked 'a tempo' and then 'rit..'. The lyrics are in Russian: 'm' - ka - desh ha - sha - bat' and '- mo Ah ha - sha - bat A - men'. The Soprano (C) part has a melody that starts with a quarter note, followed by a half note, and then a quarter note. The other parts (M, A, T, B) provide harmonic support with chords and single notes. The Soprano part ends with a whole note. The other parts end with a whole note. The score is written on a grand staff with three staves for the voices and two staves for the piano parts.
