

Adon Olam

(Sharm el Sheikh)

94f

Version 2

Ran Eliran
Arr. Stuart Izon

This popular melody was composed by Ran Eliran on the road to Sharm-el-Sheikh during the 6-day war in June 1967. Sharm-el-Sheikh had been captured by Israel during the Sinai war of 1956, but returned to Egypt in 1957. After the city was recaptured in 1967, it was kept under Israeli control until 1982 when it was rereturned to Egypt as part of the Israel-Egypt peace treaty.

The original lyrics reflect a heartfelt return to the city:

"You're Sharm-el-Sheikh, we've returned to you once again. You are in our hearts, always in our hearts" and the final verse professes an ever-present desire for peace:

"The evening sets, bringing another dream, bringing on the water a hope for peace".
