

Omnam Kein

314a

Version 2

Trad.
Arr. Stuart Izon

This is one of the most well known and beloved of the Yom Kippur s'lichot, and perhaps the most optimistic in tone, with its repeated insistence that God forgive us. This piyut was written in 12th century England by Yom Tov of Joigny, who perished in the massacre at Clifford's Tower. The music is a traditional melody of unknown authorship, but likely of German origin. There is nice interplay between Chazzan and congregation (or choir) as we repeat the inner rhyme of each verse, followed by a wonderful sense of community and catharsis as the entire shul belts out Salachti, "I have forgiven" over the classic 6-4 perfect cadence.
